IWA RAPS LUMBER OPERATORS

Charges of Illegal Action 'Unfounded'

Charges of illegal action made by the employers have been proven to be without foundation, according to a statement today from the district officers of the International Woodworkers of America.

Conclusive proof is found, they claim, in the notices posted by employers prior to the strike deadline in which the employers announced a shut-down of their operations because of the union's strike notification mailed the previous week. Copies of such notices are now in the hands of the union, it was stated.

In reference to the employers' accusations, IWA District President Joe Morris said, "I have received full reports on this matter, which give satisfactory proof that there has been no violation of the Labour Relations Act by the local unions involved in the strike. It is now apparent that the accusation made by some of the employers' representatives was merely an abortive attempt to distort minor technical considerations in order to obscure the real issues."

"The real issue which the employers are unwilling to face," Mr. Morris went on to say, "is that they failed to give any consideration to the union offer of settlement during last week's discussions. In order to expedite mediation of the dispute then under consideration, and in order to avoid open conflict, the union offered to reduce its original wage demand."

The IWA district president pointed out that this would have increased wage rates in the Southern Interior by substantially the same amount as the increase recently granted lumber workers in the bordering American states, which constitute the Southern Interior's main competitive area. Wage rates in the "Inland Empire" of East Washington, Montana, and Oregon now average 39 cents an hour above the Interior base rate of $1.53 an hour.

"In these circumstances," Mr. Morris said, "I maintained that the union's proposals were reasonable, and paved the way to a mutually acceptable settlement, if the employers had dealt with the proposed compromise in a conciliatory manner."

He added that the arbitrary rejection of the proposed compromise left the union no alternative but to withdraw the offer, and proceed with plans for strike action to gain the original wage demand.

Concluded Mr. Morris: "I am authorized to assure the strikers in these operations that even though the strike may be prolonged by the unreasonable attitude of the employers the entire Union's membership will support their struggle with all the resources of the union."

At Kelowna, S. M. Simpson Limited will be "closed down tight" by late afternoon, H. M. Simpson, president of the lumber company, said today.

During the last three days the plant has been strike-bound by the International Woodworkers of America and permanent employees have been draining boilers. Mr. Simpson was unable to say how long it would take to re-open the mill if the current wage strike is settled.

Meanwhile, Canadian Pacific Railway officials said an incident Thursday regarding the movement of 12 cars from lumber yards is "officially closed."

CPR assistant superintendent Jack Brigham and master mechanic Jim McGowan, both of Revelstoke, moved four railway cars, two of them empty, and CNR superintendent T. A. Mainprize of Kamloops shunted eight loaded cars from the lumber yards.

Railway crews had refused to cross IWA-managed picket lines. Officials did not think the incident would arise again since there are no more cars in the lumber yards. A full report on the incident has been requested by Vancouver head office.

CONTROL OF FRUIT LAND SUBDIVIDING SOUGHT

DIEF ACCEPTS, THEN RETURNS GIFT

For a few moments, Prime Minister Diefenbaker was a Pakistani shepherd. Presented with three sheep at the Khyber Pass on the Pakistan border, Mr. Diefenbaker accepted the gifts, then according to custom, returned them with thanks to the tribal chiefs.

Lake Frontage Rezoning Denied

Subdivision of orchard land is destroying priceless agricultural economy of future generations and constituting a menace to present growers, says Avery King, prominent Penticton grower.

Appearing at the public hearing on proposed amendments to Penticton's zoning bylaw in city council chambers this morning, Mr. King urged that council consider how it might control the subdivision of fruit land and protect this vital part of the city's economy.

The hearing also included representation on small lots and spread into orchards.

Mr. King agreed that the problem was a difficult one for which a solution cannot be easily found. Council suggested that he prepare a brief on the matter and council would forward it to provincial and federal agricultural departments since the problem was a nation-wide scope.

Also rejected was a proposal to rezone the lake frontage area now occupied by packing houses, north of Lakeshore Drive, between Martin and Front Streets, to a park area. A large delegation which was prepared to present objections, found they were not needed after H. G. Andrew, city clerk, passed on advice from the city solicitor that the proposed rezoning would be improper because it would endanger property values.

On hearing the advice, council promptly decided to delete the proposed rezoning from the amended by-law.

In his submission, Avery King, urged that orchard land be kept in production as long as possible. "By subdivision, agricultural land is destroyed but nothing is produced," he pointed out. "Land is priceless and it's here forever if you protect it."

He added that not only did orchard subdivisions leave nothing to pass on for future generations, but they also endangered neighboring orchards because pests are allowed to get out of control.

Segregation Law Declared Unconstitutional

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A special three-judge federal court today declared unconstitutional a portion of Louisiana's segregation laws which forbid interracial athletic contests.

The order was signed by Judge John Minor Wisdom of the U.S. fifth circuit court of appeals and district judges Herbert Christenberry and J. Skelly Wright.

The ruling, today, knocks out that portion of the 1956 law dealing with mixed athletic events. However, it deals only with the section governing participants and does not alter separate seating facilities for the races. That issue was not before the court.

The court also issued an injunction nullifying enforcement of the law pending an appeal. Louisiana Attorney General Jack Gremlion said earlier if the law were nullified, he would have no recourse but appeal.

Special Aid for Railways Urged

OTTAWA (CP) — Liberal Leader Pearson said today the federal government should give the railways special financial assistance on unprofitable services carried out in the national interest.

However, he said in a statement, such assistance should be paid only pending a long-term solution to the railways' problems.

Mr. Pearson was commenting on the cabinet's decision Wednesday to allow a 17-per-cent freight rate increase authorized by the board of transport commissioners. The railway companies—CPR and CNR—claimed the increase was required to meet wage increases sought by their non-operating workers.

Mr. Pearson said the wage increase recommended by a conciliation board is reasonable, but that the transport commissioners should not be placed in a position of ruling on wage problems not within the scope of its responsibilities.

He said there are obvious objections to a permanent policy of federal subsidies specifically designed to finance wage increases.

Mr. Pearson said that the freight rate increase will aggravate some inequities in the rate structure, and referring to the government's plan for a review of general railway problems added:

"What is needed is a new approach not only to the railway problem, but to the whole problem of transportation in Canada."

The cabinet was faced with the alternative: Allow the freight rate increase or subsidize the railways.

The government's decision to allow the increase was "incompatible with the announced intention of the government to provide immediate alleviation of discrimination."

Duplessis Rules Out Inquiry into Hydro System Sale

QUEBEC (CP)—Premier Duplessis and Welfare Minister Paul Sauve said today in the legislative assembly the Quebec government cannot establish a royal commission of inquiry into the sale of Quebec Hydro's Montreal gas system to the Quebec Natural Gas Corporation.

Welfare Minister Sauve said a number of libel suits have been started by Premier Duplessis and government officials against a daily newspaper, Montreal Le Devoir, in connection with a series of articles dealing with the transaction.

LIGHTER SIDE

TORONTO — (CP) — A motorcycle officer found an illegally parked car and radioed for a check on the licence.

In a few minutes came the reply "The vehicle is registered to 149 College Street, Police department."

A brief silence. "I think I'll leave it alone," Briefer silence. "I would if I were you." End of case.

COAST MAN GETS YEAR FOR ATTEMPTED ARMED ROBBERY

A Vancouver man was sentenced to one year in Oakalla Prison Farm by Magistrate H. J. Jennings in Penticton Police Court this morning on a charge of attempted armed robbery.

Edward Patrick Simpkins, 21, pleaded guilty to a charge of attempting to get money from Mrs. Alfred Olhausen, proprietress of the Sonora Rooms, Main Street, in Penticton, while brandishing a sawed-off .22 cal. rifle on the morning of November 20.

Court was told this morning that Simpkins had said to Mrs. Olhausen that he hated to do it, but he wanted the money. It was learned that the proprietress talked him out of it and her husband took the gun from him.

The attempted armed robbery was not reported until this morning.

Simpkins was picked up by Penticton RCMP yesterday afternoon in connection with charges of passing bad cheques and theft in Grand Forks.

Six May Enter Civic Elections

Penticton will have at least two candidates for each of the three vacancies in the Dec. 11 civic elections, according to indications this morning.

A fifth candidate has now filed nomination papers and a sixth is considering announcement of his candidacy tomorrow.

Latest to officially enter the election race is Harry C. Chamberlain, 52, of 1617 Quebec Street, who filed his nomination papers yesterday afternoon. Clem Bird, 670 Victoria Drive, is also giving consideration to entering the race.

The other candidates for the three aldermanic vacancies are Ald. P. F. Erat and Ald. F. P. McPherson, running for re-election; J. W. Johnson, a former councillor; and W. H. Whimster, making his first try for aldermanic office.

Mr. Chamberlain, who came to Penticton with his family three years ago, is a steam engineer by trade and was formerly employed with Granby Consolidated near Princeton. Prior to that the Chamberlain family operated an orchard at Cawston moving there from northern B.C.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain have been active in the Boy Scout movement. Mr. Chamberlain served as Cubmaster with the Fifth Penticton Cub Pack and Mrs. Chamberlain was assistant Cubmaster.

Mr. Chamberlain has also been active in Fish and Game clubs.

OTTAWA — (CP) — The cabinet has commuted to life imprisonment the death sentence of Robert Carroll, 20, who was due to be hanged Dec. 2 for the murder of Lynn Redman, 16, in St. Catharines, Ont., last May 4.

Carroll, who did not appeal his conviction of murder last Sept. 19, will serve his sentence in Kingston, Ont., penitentiary.

He was found guilty of slaying the Redman girl in a Love's Lane murder.

Girl Dies of Stab Wounds

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A three-year-old girl died today of stab wounds suffered Thursday night while her father used her as a shield from an infuriated, knife-wielding woman.

The child was Jean Guiley, daughter of Emory Guiley, 37.

Police said Guiley was spending Thanksgiving at the home of friends when the 34-year-old woman entered. Guiley had the child in her arms as the woman began slashing at him with the knife.

The child was stabbed in the shoulder. Guiley was cut on the right knee and left leg.

Police said the woman came to Dallas from Fort Worth looking for her common-law husband. She was held for investigation of murder and carrying a concealed weapon.

NATIVE SONS DISPLAY FLAG, PLAY 'O CANADA' FIRST

When a meeting of the Native Sons of Canada failed to play "God Save the Queen" Toronto Controller Joseph Cornish, above, a candidate for mayor walked out along with two other controllers. He said he thought a deliberate slight was intended, but Native Sons' officers said it was the custom to play "God Save the Queen" at the end of their meetings and "O Canada" at the start. At all Native Sons meetings, their own design for a Canadian flag, shown right, is displayed. It is red and white with green maple leaf. Bernard Glum, vice-president, called Mr. Cornish's attitude "pugnacious" when he insisted "The Queen" be played.

Word War Continues In Firing of Professor

WINNIPEG (CP) — All six history professors at the University of Manitoba charged Thursday night that United College "has forfeited the confidence of the academic profession across Canada" by firing Professor Harry S. Crowe.

Prof. Crowe was dismissed by the college, a United Church institution affiliated with the university, after a personal letter he wrote to a colleague fell into the hands of principal Dr. W. C. Lockhart.

Five professors have resigned from the college as a result of the case. One already has left and the board of regents announced Thursday it had accepted the resignations of three more.

A two-man committee of the Canadian Association of University Teachers which investigated the dismissal said Prof. Crowe was the "victim of injustice." A statement issued by the members of the history department at the university expressed regret at "the passing of a great department."

"It is tragic that the college, and higher education in Manitoba, should be robbed of so much by the clumsiness revealed, with such meticulous documentation in the Canadian Association of University Teachers report. It is almost inconceivable that such a department can be rebuilt after such a fall."

"We believe the dismissal of Professor Crowe to be unjust and wholly contrary to the best usage of universities in free countries."

OTHERS LEAVING

In addition to Prof. Crowe, the university will lose Prof. J. H. Stewart Reid, chairman of the history department; Prof. K. W. McNaught, associate professor of history; and assistant professor of English R. M. Stingle, whose resignations were accepted Thursday.

Prof. Fred Harper, assistant French professor, announced he had advised the board of regents Oct. 3 of his intention to resign but he had hoped for a private settlement of the matter. Earlier, Prof. Michael Oliver said he is going to Queen's University because of the handling of the Crowe case.

The statement from the university of Manitoba was signed by professors J. McEwen, P. Yuzik, T. S. Webster, T. J. Oleson, R. Glover and W. L. Morton.

RELEASE ANNUAL REPORT

Earlier Thursday evening, the college released extracts from the annual report given by Dr. Lockhart to the board of regents last Monday, the same day the CAUT report was released in Toronto.

Dr. Lockhart said: "I have always understood academic freedom as related to a college professor to be the immunity and protection given to him in the adventurous task of pursuing and imparting knowledge and truth."

"However, it does not seem to me that academic freedom as thus understood can be interpreted to mean an immunity to cover irresponsible action or expression."

Contents of the letter written by Prof. Crowe have never been revealed. However, it is believed to have criticized the administration of the arts and theology institution and some faculty members.

"REFRAIN FROM ATTACKS"

Dr. Lockhart told the board of regents that in a church college: "While the teacher will exercise full privileges to bring under comment and criticism all matters of faith and doctrine, if he nonetheless finds himself out of sympathy with the basic tenets of religion, he should in all honesty refrain from attacks upon religion as such or the religious views of his colleagues."

Prof. Crowe later issued a reply to this statement, saying: "Dr. Lockhart's statement is an attempt, but not a very skillful one, to conceal the fact that he read and photostated a private and undelivered letter from one member of his faculty to another, and divulged its contents to other persons, made it the occasion of a faculty meeting and reported it formally to the board of regents."

"I still find it inconceivable that Dr. Lockhart should attempt to defend this violation of elementary human rights on religious grounds."

West Berliners Ready For Cold War Siege

By SEYMOUR TOPPING

BERLIN (AP) — West Berliners dug in today for a new cold war siege as their officials spurned the Soviet proposal to convert West Berlin into a demilitarized "free city."

"We in West Berlin say no," Mayor Willy Brandt declared in a radio and television broadcast after an emergency meeting of his cabinet called to study Soviet Premier Khrushchev's proposals. All West Berlin parties, newspapers and citizens seemed to back him up.

"The 44-year-old Socialist mayor, appealing for the support of the Western world, promised that West Berlin's 2,200,000 citizens would not panic as the six months proposed by Khrushchev for negotiations run out."

"We are not afraid," he said. "We will not be shaken. We will not go on reconstructing. We will continue to have faith in our friends."

REJECTION INDICATED

The Western powers withheld final word on the Soviet proposals, but preliminary reaction from the U.S. state department and the British foreign office indicated rejection.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said he is sure the Western Allies would "reject every suggestion that aims at making Berlin defenceless and endangering its freedom."

Adenauer and French Premier Charles de Gaulle had already announced Wednesday that the West's promises to maintain the occupation must be kept.

West German Socialist leader Erich Ollenhauer, Adenauer's chief opposition, assured West Berliners that his party also stands firmly behind them.

All the Western governments indicated, however, that the 24-page Khrushchev note will be considered carefully before the reply.

UN ROLE

Khrushchev proposed that West Berlin be turned into a "demilitarized free city" with UN observers keeping watch over its neutrality after Western troops pull out.

He gave the West six months to negotiate the switch but said if it turned down the proposal the Soviet would go ahead and transfer to East Germany the control of Allied supply lines to the isolated city.

At a press conference, Khrushchev called West Berlin "that cancerous tumor" in the centre of East Germany. But he denied the six months for negotiations was an ultimatum.

Allied officials welcomed the breathing space. They had feared the Russians would waste no time in giving control of supply lines to the East German regime, which the West refuses to recognize.

Brandt opposed what he called a "Danzig solution" for his city. Danzig, a Prussian port on the Baltic surrounded by German territory, was made a free city after the First World War to serve as a port for Poland. Hitler made its recovery the excuse for his 1939 attack on Poland.

Brandt said he may fly to Washington in the next few days for talks.

Hide-and-Seek Elections in Algeria Begin

ALGIERS (Reuters) — The hide-and-seek elections for Algerian candidates to the French National Assembly opened today in the back country of strife-torn Algeria.

Loudspeaker trucks roared into selected villages in the hills and plains to announce to residents that today was their voting day.

Voters had been told that the elections would be held over three days in Algeria, but the villages picked secretly for the first day of voting didn't know until the loudspeakers arrived when they could cast their ballot.

TROOPS ON HAND

The surprise element was aimed at baffling any organized insurgent attacks on polling stations and making sure that French troops were on hand to protect the voters.

The National Liberation Front (FLN) has called for a boycott of the elections and threatened ambushes and sabotage.

Half the villages vote today and half Saturday, while the big towns hold elections Sunday. The Europeans and Moslems in Algeria have 67 deputies to elect to the assembly.

BAN PLACED ON IMPORTS OF NOVELTY SWIZZLE STICK

OTTAWA — (CP) — The health department's food and drug directorate Thursday placed a ban on imports of a novelty swizzle stick called Voodoo Doll.

The directorate's chief, Dr. C. A. Morrell, said the beverage stirrers are undesirable because of poisonous elements contained in a simulated head at one end of the stick.

The head, topped by a miniature straw hat, consists of an unroasted cashew nut with the shell containing a liquid similar to the oil found in poison ivy leaves.

The eyes are a type of bean that could kill an infant if swallowed whole, or cause a serious rash in an adult. The eight-inch wooden shaft is harmless.

Dr. Morrell said he does not know where the swizzle sticks come from, but appear to be from the West Indies where cashew nuts and the beans are found.

Two such sticks have been discovered in Ottawa and 14 are reported in Montreal, brought back as novelty souvenirs from the United States.

The U.S. public health service has issued a warning against the swizzle sticks.

Pearson Urges West to Protect Rights in Berlin

TORONTO (CP) — Opposition Leader Pearson Thursday said the Western nations should meet any Russian attempt to eliminate treaty rights and obligations in Berlin with unity and firmness.

The Liberal leader and former external affairs minister said in an address to the Empire Club here that "before any step is taken to counter such a Russian move members of the North Atlantic Alliance should be consulted."

His address was prepared for delivery before Russia declared void the four-power occupation agreement on Berlin and proposed a demilitarized "free city."

Text of his speech was given to the press before delivery.

He referred to Berlin as an example of the differences in foreign policy among members of the Commonwealth.

"The United Kingdom has definite treaty rights and responsibilities there," he said. "She must protect these and I, for one, think that any attempt to eliminate agreement—by the USSR acting through its East German Communist satellite, should be met with unity and firmness on the part of the Western coalition as a whole."

"It is idle to expect, however, that the other members of the Commonwealth such as India, Pakistan or Ghana or Malaya or Ceylon would adopt — or even support — any such policy of collective resistance to efforts to overthrow the existing regimented Berlin by forceful methods. There is not likely to be any Commonwealth unity in this matter any more than there is on the policy to be adopted toward the USSR generally."

Springer Named PWA President

VANCOUVER (CP) — Karl J. Springer, chairman of the board of Pacific Western Airlines, has been elected president and managing director to succeed the late Russ Baker.

In the early days of the company, which Russ Baker helped to build from a shaky bush operation into Canada's third largest commercial line, Mr. Springer was president and Mr. Baker vice-president and general manager.

When the airline became a public company in 1955, Mr. Springer was elected chairman of the board and Mr. Baker president and general manager. Mr. Baker died two weeks ago. Mr. Springer will continue as board chairman.

The company also announced that R. H. Laidman, assistant general manager since 1956, will become vice-president and general manager while D. D. McLaren, executive assistant and assistant to the president, becomes executive vice-president.

Kelowna Train Crews Suspended

KELOWNA — Ten men, comprising two railway crews, have been pulled out of service here for refusing to cross IWA picket lines to bring out lumber cars.

The crews are employees of the CNR and CPR and the loaded cars are at the S. M. Simpson and S. and K. Plywood plant here.

Free-Love Club Formed at UBC

VANCOUVER (CP)—Two "free love" societies are reported competing for membership at the University of British Columbia.

A letter on Thursday in Ubysey, the daily student newspaper, said about 40 students, four of them girls, appeared at an organizational meeting Tuesday after a notice appeared in Ubysey announcing formation of a free-love club.

Another letter in the same paper claimed a group calling itself La Societe de l'Amour Libre (free-love society) has been in existence at the university since the fall of 1957.

CNIB Seeking Legislation to Control Appeals

VICTORIA (CP) — The Canadian Council of the Blind Thursday asked for provincial legislation to govern and control all appeals on behalf of blind persons.

A delegation headed by Capt. Merrill Robinson, national CNIB director for British Columbia, met here with representatives of the attorney-general's department.

Many unsavory persons and organizations are using the name of the blind groups and taking advantage of the kindness and generosity of the general public, Capt. Robinson said.

"It constitutes a real menace," he added.

"When the public finds out it has been taken, it holds a resentment against the CNIB for not providing some protection."

Growers Urge Spray Areas

SUMMERLAND — E. M. Tait, a member of the BCFGA executive, said at last night's annual local BCFGA meeting, that he believed the McPhee report would be out shortly after December 1.

The report might influence resolutions for the January convention, Mr. Tait thought.

Because of this he reported that a second resolutions' meeting would be held by the executive on January 8 with results published January 12 to give growers time to study them before the convention, January 21-23.

Boatman Fined For Dangerous Operation

Henry Dick, 33, of Chilliwack, was fined $15 and costs by Magistrate H. J. Jennings in Penticton Police Court yesterday when he was found guilty on a charge of operating a vessel in a manner dangerous to others.

Testimony revealed that at Skaha Lake on August 18, Dick operated his motor boat in an area restricted to swimmers and marked off buoys.

After two warnings by W. W. Gartner, city parks board employee, Dick failed to keep his craft out of the buoyed-off area, it was disclosed.

Crown witnesses were W. W. Gartner, William Shepherd, both of Penticton city parks department, and Const. R. R. Miller, and Cpl. T. W. Glaholm of Penticton detachment RCMP.

Dick presented his own defence, without aid of counsel.

MacPhee Report Expected Soon After Dec. 1

SUMMERLAND — Opinion was expressed at the annual meeting of Summerland BCFGA local last night that all subdivisions should be required to have apple trees removed. This is because they constitute an insect hazard and rarely, if ever, are sprayed.

John Bennett pointed out that a large orchard may be surrounded by these backyard trees which adversely affect the orchards.

It was decided to set up a committee to report back to the BCFGA as to the best method of setting up spray areas.

Small Farmer on Way Out: MacPhee

Victoria (CP) — E. D. MacPhee, dean of commerce at the University of B.C., says the small farmer is on the way out.

Before the 25th annual B.C. Federation of Agriculture convention here Wednesday, Prof. MacPhee saw an inevitable trend to larger farm units with large capital, run by competent managers and skilled employees.

He has completed a royal commission report still not released, on interior fruit industry. Seventy-five per cent of interior orchards are smaller than the 15 to 20 acres generally accepted as the minimum economic unit.

"Our whole standard of adequate size has been altered with in a decade or two," MacPhee told the convention.

New Magazine for Growers Urged

SUMMERLAND — J. G. Mayne was unanimously re-elected chairman of the Summerland local BCFGA at the annual meeting in LOOK Hall, West Summerland, last night.

Hans Stoll was re-elected vice-chairman and J. W. Caldwell, secretary-treasurer.

Four delegates to the annual convention named were Paul Charles, F. R. Ganzewald, Ed Krause and Harvey Eden. Alternates are John Bennett, Colin McKenzie, Dennis Kean, Wm. Gallop, J. Y. Towood, Charlie Bernhardt and John Holman.

INDUSTRY NOMINATIONS
Nomination for president was Art Garrish, Oliver; for executive, southern district council, E. M. Tait, Summerland, John Luth, Oliver. For the board of governors, B.C. Tree Fruits, southern district council, Jim Wells, Summerland, W. O. June, Naramata and Gordon Wright, Oliver.

Nominees for directors to the B.C. Processors are E. Hack, Oliver; Colin McDonald, Penticton and J. B. M. Clarke, Kere-nas.

Jim Campbell of Salmon Arm and Gordon Desbrisay of Penticton were nominated as directors of the Fruit Board.

Two resolutions were passed to be presented to the annual convention at Vernon, Jan. 21-23.

The meeting asked the convention to set up a committee for establishing a fruit industry magazine since it was thought Country Life no longer served this purpose.

NO LONGER VOICE
Hans Stoll proposed the industry should have its own monthly magazine to be a voice of fruit growers. The resolution preambled suggested that Country Life is no longer adequate. Mr. Stoll took exception to an editorial in it against a subsidy to fruit growers. He believed the federal government would regard Country Life as an authoritative opinion from growers.

The proposed magazine would definitely represent the 3,600 fruit farmers in the Okanagan and the industry officials. Mr. Stoll thought it should be paid for through the BCFGA, the same as Country Life, and that the price should not exceed $1 per year.

E. M. Tait, a BCFGA executive member, suggested extension of the quarterly report into an industry magazine which would invite growers to participate by letters.

The second resolution asked the convention to have an agricultural engineer from the Experimental Farm study methods of sorting, grading and packing soft fruits throughout the world and have them evaluated for local needs and that $2,500 be allocated towards this project. Colin McKenzie, proposer, thought advances were taking place and that the local industry should keep pace with them.

New Pastor for Lutheran Parish

Rev. Carl O. Beiderwieden, B. A., B.D., was installed as pastor of Concordia Lutheran Church, 680 Martin Street this week.

Lutheran clergy of the Okanagan Valley were in attendance with Rev. A. Krahenbil of Oliver conducting the rite of installation. Mr. Beiderwieden was also installed in St. John Lutheran Church in Summerland in an afternoon service.

The new pastor comes from Vancouver, where he organized and served Kitsilano Lutheran Church since 1943. Mr. Beiderwieden has also been a member of the board of directors of the Alberta-B.C. District of the Lutheran Church — Mo. Synod, and its second vice-president since 1957.

Both congregations held receptions after the services for the new pastor and his family. The Beiderwiedens have children, and will reside temporarily at 632 Ellis Street.

The Penticton-Summerland parish was formerly served by the Rev. L.A. Gabert, who left in September to serve the Brooks-Duchess parish in Southern Alberta.

B.C. Urged to Share Cost of Winter Work

OLIVER — Resolutions urging Civil Defence instruction in British Columbia schools and greater government participation in the winter works program sparked most of the discussion at the quarterly meeting of the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association here yesterday.

Thirty-five representatives from Okanagan centres attended the meeting which began at noon with a social hour followed by lunch at the United Church Hall.

First resolution of the afternoon, presented by the City of Vernon, asked the B.C. government to include a course of instruction on Civil Defence in the high school curriculum.

Ald. Harwood of Vernon, introducing the resolution, said he fully realized that the curriculum was full but said self-protection comes first. All education would prove useless if one wasn't alive to enjoy it.

Mayor Fitzvator of Kamloops spoke strongly in support as did Ald. Elsie MacCleave of Penticton, but Mayor Oliver wanted to know what would be taught and said he hadn't yet seen any syllabus.

Ald. Frank Erault of Penticton speaking in the dual capacity of both alderman and school trustee, said that at present there was no room for Civil Defence course in an already overcrowded curriculum, and thought that school boards should be asked to co-operate in drafting a resolution for a rearranged curriculum.

Other speakers felt the course would add one more weakness to the educational system.

AMENDED FORM
The resolution, finally carried in an amended form, asked the government to include instruction in methods of survival in the high school curriculum.

In the resolution on the federal government's winter works program, the federal government was asked to include one-half the cost of material as well as labor in works coming under this program and the provincial government was asked to participate to the extent of one-half of the municipal share. This resolution was also submitted by Vernon.

The proposer said the government's offer to supply 50 per cent of the cost of labor only was not of much value to municipalities.

EMPLOYMENT NOT AID
T. R. B. Adams, secretary of the Union of B.C. Municipalities, however, pointed out that the offer was not intended to help municipalities but to encourage them to undertake winter work to assist in relieving unemployment. He did not think that assistance for materials would be forthcoming and said the basic principle was to provide winter employment in which governments at all levels have a moral responsibility.

The resolution was carried after deletion of the first part.

A third resolution from Vernon urging the government to look into feasibility of requiring unemployed persons receiving unemployment insurance, to perform work to the value of their benefits, was defeated.

A Penticton resolution proposed by Ald. Elsie MacCleave requesting the provincial secretary and the BCHIS to provide suitable temporary accommodation in the Okanagan for mentally disturbed patients was passed without debate.

FULL CHANGE REJECTED
Another Penticton resolution proposed by Ald. Frank Erault urging an amendment to the municipal act to provide that the poll for civic elections be on the second Saturday in December was lost.

T. R. B. Adams, executive secretary of the Union of B.C. Municipalities, spoke briefly and informally on his personal impressions of the meeting of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities held earlier this fall at Ottawa.

TALK OF THE VALLEY

FRIGHTENING TASK

Only the cage birds are being looked after this week. Some of the uncaged variety may be in for trouble. This indication was given at last night's meeting of the Summerland local of the BCFGA. F. R. Ganzewald brought up the point that something should be done about the starlings which have been playing havoc with district fruit. Dr. M. F. Welsh suggested that it might be a good idea to follow the example of Holland in solving this problem. In the orchards and gardens of that country the Dutch use some sort of a jangly mechanical device. It also could be a man standing amid the fruit trees, dressed in some outlandish costume, blowing on a horn.

This would ease unemployment as well as constituting a great service.

THE BIG WEEKEND

It was easy to detect a mingled excitement in some of the local eateries this morning at coffee time. Quite a number of Penticton types will be barrelling along Highway 3 this afternoon heading for Vancouver and the big party known as the Grey Cup weekend. One of the added attractions: a football game between Winnipeg and Hamilton.

DUES PROBLEMS

Financial problems, chiefly due to $510 in outstanding dues, have forced the Kelowna Board of Trade to refuse a request from the Kelowna Film Council for a contribution to help defray the film group's expenses. Several board members agreed that a system of instalment payments should be instituted for the collection of dues. This method has been successful in other cities.

RUNNING AGAIN

Three Salmon Arm councillors will be running again for re-election on the two-year terms. They are: A. B. Ritchie, E. G. Broeder, Harry W. Brown. There is no inkling who will stand for the one-year term. The council is to increase by one member this year.

"Holiday Ahoy", a hilarious musical comedy, made a great hit with a large audience at the North Kamloops Junior-Senior High School Tuesday. The show was sponsored by the North Kamloops Lions Club with proceeds in aid of North Kamloops charities. Local performers made up the cast of over 70.

Good News From Canadian Cannery Executives

Wednesday's announcement by Canadian Cannery Western Ltd. should ease some of the worries of fruit growers. The rumor that the company intended to import fruit from the United States for their local operations had been growing in strength. To hear that it was without foundation made pleasant reading.

The closure of certain small plants for economic reasons is saddening, but understandable in this age of automation. When such things happen with the promise that "we hope to become a more important factor in the economy of the Okanagan" we can accept the changes more readily, always providing the promises are made sincerely and kept.

In conjunction with the announcement that there was no intention on the part of Canadian Cannery to buy U.S. fruit in preference to Canadian, came the reminder that the same company is constructing a can manufacturing plant in Canada. For many years one of the chief complaints of growers and canners has been the fact that cans for their products had to be purchased south of the border.

Coming together the announcement of what amounts to an all-Canadian production provides us with one bright ray in an otherwise all gloomy picture.

Lack of Spirit Evident

"It would appear that our motel men and service station operators want to reap the benefit but don't want to contribute. Response from these people has been very disappointing, though other firms have supported us quite well." The speaker was Larry McGee, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. His blunt remarks were prompted by the lack of support for the Penticton Grey Cup parade float.

With an estimated crowd of 300,000 lining the streets of Vancouver to watch the parade, and countless thousands more all across Canada watching on TV, it would appear that once more many merchants fail to realize the value of good publicity.

The Junior Chamber is to be complimented on its ingenuity and effort in organizing and building the float to publicize our city. The catch-phrase, "Don't envy us in Penticton — join us" is a good one, but it will have a hollow ring if ever the thousands watching the float go by realize how lacking many of us are in community spirit.

Security and Freedom

The Amish people, a Mennonite sect, have been here for a very long time. To most of us, the Amish are a quaint group whom we see now and then in the newsreels or The National Geographic driving their horses and buggies slowly to and from farm and marketplace. The men are all bearded and the women all bonneted.

But to their neighbours, the Amish are a law-abiding, God-fearing, industrious farm people who raise their children to respect their elders and to assume a responsibility for their relatives too old to work. In many ways, their way of life might be a pattern the rest of us would do well to follow.

But the Amish are now lawbreakers, because America, in its emphasis on security, has transgressed a freedom they hold to be paramount. Recently an auctioneer in Canton, Ohio, sold off livestock seized from Amish farmers by the U.S. Government because the Amishmen had refused to pay the Old Age and Survivors Insurance System levies.

The tax, they say, is against their religion. To pay the tax is to admit that the Government has a responsibility for aged Amish, and to admit that is to deny their own responsibility and thus one of their strictest religious precepts. The records in the two counties where the Government seized 28 head of livestock from 15 Amish farmers and cash assets of 50 others show that no Amishman had ever sought public assistance of any kind.

Has this emphasis on security touched only the Amish? No; farmers are fined for growing wheat without a Government say-so because other farmers want it that way in their search for security. Congress has permitted the labor law to be so written that men can be forced to join a labor union in order to hold a job.

The laws that require these things are not, it should be remembered, laws enacted to prevent evil or wrongdoing. It is not wrong, we think, for a man to have the freedom to work without having to join any association of other men in order to do so. It is not wrong for a farmer to grow wheat on his own farm for his own use. It is not wrong for the Amish to reject the idea of Government responsibility for their own aged members.

To the contrary. What is wrong is the growing emphasis in our society on security. The wrong comes about when, in the name of the alleged greater good of all, collective security is permitted to disregard or destroy individual rights or beliefs or freedoms.

Furthermore, it wrongs more than the individual. For as one man's freedom is lost, freedom for all men is diminished as well. And though security is one of man's highest aspirations, perhaps we had better remember that security without freedom is history's bitterest jest. And there is a point where over-emphasis on one can slowly, but inexorably, destroy the other.

LONDON — British interest in the development of the backward countries of the Commonwealth is seen in the arrival in London of a party of young engineers from India. This party, 19 in number, is the fourth such group to come to England to be given special training in British steelworks and engineering shops. Altogether, some 300 Indian engineers are to be brought to Britain for this special training.

UNITED KINGDOM OPINION

Engineers to Train in Britain

Purpose of this project is to train Indian engineers to take supervisory posts in huge new steelworks being built at Durgapur in Bengal, India, under the Colombo plan. So far, 88 of the projected 300 are in training. The first group of 19, which arrived in Britain in October of 1957, are now completing their training, and will sail for India from Liverpool on November 29 to take up posts in the new steelworks.

The party which has just arrived is spending a week in London, attending a special introductory course arranged for them by the British Council and the British Iron and Steel Federation. When this is completed, they will be sent to steelworks and factories in various parts of the country to begin their year of practical training.

The Durgapur Steel-Works, now under construction, is situated in a village 110 miles northwest of Calcutta, on the River Damodar. It will eventually cover an area of about seven square miles, and will have a production capacity of one million tons of steel ingots and 360,000 tons of pig-iron a year.

The travel costs and maintenance grants for the 300 Indian engineers to be trained will be met by the United Kingdom government under the technical co-operation scheme of the Colombo plan. Most of them are graduates in mechanical, electrical or chemical engineering. Their special training is intended to fit them for specific positions in the organization being built up to operate the new plant at Durgapur.

Following the lead of Canada, the British government has announced its intention to increase its contribution to the technical assistance scheme of the Colombo plan from its promised amount of £7 million to £9 million.

Aerial Photo Job Speeded in North

By JOHN E. Bird
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — Good flying conditions in the Canadian north last summer reduced by about half a six-year federal project to produce a complete aerial photographic record of Canada's vast Arctic archipelago.

The photographs, taken from aircraft flying at 30,000 feet, will be used to make detailed maps to aid developing resources of the sprawling area and to broaden defence information.

When the $6,300,000 photographic project was launched early in June the technical surveys department expected the work would be over a six-year period.

HUGE PROJECT
The project involves the photographic coverage of an Arctic area of some 500,000 square miles. It is the largest air photo mapping project undertaken to date in the western world.

H.A.S. West, secretary of surveys for the department, said in an interview that work progressed so favorably last summer that it now is conceivable the project will be completed in three years.

"During July and August a total of 223,000 of the 500,000 square miles were photographed," he said. "This work was accomplished by eight air crews."

Mr. West said excellent flying conditions permitted the aircraft to operate almost every day during July and August.

"The weather was phenomenal," he said.

SHORT FLYING PERIOD
Aerial photography work for map making must be conducted during the summer after the snow has gone. However, flying conditions in the Arctic usually are only suitable for this type of work over a period of 16 to 20 days in July and August.

The weather must be perfectly clear. This type of weather is not general in the Arctic in the two months because the difference between ground and air temperatures produces fog.

The project is being conducted for the department by Aero Surveys Limited of Vancouver. Photographic Survey Corporation of Toronto and Spartan Air Service Limited of Ottawa. They are under contract to complete the work not later than 1963.

The eight aircraft used in the project operated mainly from DEW radar sites. For the most part last summer they operated in the southern section of the Arctic Archipelago.

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

With winter and colder weather fast approaching, I'd like to pass on a few timely tips to those of you with new babies in your homes.

You don't want the infant kicking off the covers and you don't want to pin the covers firmly to the bed. So you may want to buy or make a sleeping garment that will keep you free from concern.

USEFUL ARTICLE
A baby sleeping bag is a relatively inexpensive item and certainly is well worth the cost. Generally, such a garment is all the outer covering a baby will need.

You can make one by using a partly worn blanket, if you wish. It should be cut so that it resembles a very long and loose-sleeved kimono.

The bottom, of course, should be sewed with a zipper or snaps fastening the front. It should be large enough to permit the baby to stand when he is old enough and to move about freely.

SHOULDN'T BIND
Whether you buy or make such a garment, be sure that it does not bind at the throat when the baby turns and twists.

Putting a sweater over the baby's nightgown and placing an extra pair of warm sleeper pants containing feet over the lower portion of his body also will help keep him warm without blankets.

Generally, however, most babies are kept too warm rather than too cold.

If your baby is old enough to sit up and go outside you probably will have use for a woolen playsuit or coverall. Since clothes are warmer if they are loose around the body, make sure that these items are plenty large.

CAN'T KEEP WARM
At this age, remember, your lot won't be active enough to do anything to keep himself warm. Large armholes are necessary in such garments so that the baby's arms can be placed into them easily, even when he is wearing a sweater.

Since knitted clothing usually is easier to wash than woven woolen items, you may prefer a knitted outdoor suit for your tot. But knitted garments generally are not as warm as woolen clothing and they don't keep out the wind as effectively.

However, when you use a knitted garment under a cotton moisture-resistant wind-breaker you have an effective combination.

I suggest a warm woolen hood or cap to cover the head and ears when you take baby outside in cold weather.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
A.S.: Please give me some information on pigeon pox. I am anxious to know about this rare disease.

Answer: Pigeon pox, also called hen pox, occurs in chickens, pigeons, turkeys and other fowls. Yellow nodules appear chiefly about the head.

As far as is known, this condition is not associated with any disease in man.

OTTAWA REPORT

Penalties for Passing Secrets

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

Ottawa has heard a lot about secret reports lately. What does it mean when a Cabinet Minister or senior official classifies a government document as "secret"? What obligations are there- by imposed upon any Canadian into whose hands such a document may pass?

Twelve years ago, a sensational series of trials centred around the betrayal of Canada's secret information. A number of civil servants and other persons were put on trial, and some were sentenced to prison terms, in connection with the handling over in wartime of Canada's atomic secrets to agents of a foreign power, even though that power was at that time our military ally.

In recent times of peace, there has been no similar trial of civil servants or others in connection with the disclosure of secret government information of a non-military nature.

However, there are certain signposts which might serve as guides as to whether or not offences would be committed by the unauthorized disclosure of secret documents; and as to the possible punishment upon conviction for any such offences.

CIVIL SERVICE OATH

The Civil Service Act prescribes that every employee in the government service must swear an oath of loyalty before he or she can receive the first pay cheque.

This oath involves the civil servant in repeating these words: "I solemnly and sincerely swear that I will faithfully and honestly fulfil the duties that devolve upon me by reason of my employment in the Civil Service and that I will not, without due authority in that behalf, disclose or make known any matter that comes to my knowledge by reason of such employment. So help me God."

That oath makes it clear that no civil servant should reveal to any unauthorized person anything contained in any secret government document. The least of the penalties for being found out would be dismissal.

The prohibition against spying on behalf of an enemy power is set out in the Official Secrets Act, which mainly refers to matters affecting munitions of war. There are however certain sections and clauses which might be held to apply equally to secret government documents which do not relate to military defences. It is widely understood that the Free World is engaged in a to-the-death "Cold War" of economies against the communist countries. So a court of law might uphold the official secrets act as referring to secrets other than those directly associated with a shooting war.

Section 4 (b) of that Act says: "Every person who allows any other person to have possession of any official document issued for his use alone, or without lawful authority has in his possession any official document issued for the use of some person other than himself, is guilty of an offence under this Act."

SEVERE PENALTIES

Section 4 (3) says: "Every person who receives any secret official document, knowing or having reasonable ground to believe that the document is communicated to him in contradiction of this Act, is guilty of an offence under this Act, unless he proves that the communication to him of the document was contrary to his desires."

Section 15 (1) says: "Any person who is guilty of an offence under this Act is on conviction punishable by imprisonment for a term not exceeding fourteen years."

In some circles it is felt that every day is open season on secret documents. No loyal Canadian would reveal the top secret document describing the specifications and performances of Canada's hush-hush anti-flying saucer missile, because this might endanger your life — and his.

Should we, in the Cold War, treat less seriously the revelation of Canada's economic secrets when these affect your job and your children's food? Or should the season on those filed ducks in government offices be closed by the Official Secrets Act and the civil servant's oath?

NOTE TO POISONER

"I guess you would like to know how successful you were in murdering a widow's faithful companion and guardian. Too bad you weren't able to watch her die in the horrible agony of poison. Maybe you would have enjoyed it more if it had been your child and you knew the doctor couldn't get there in time. Of course you didn't get any of the night-roaming dogs, only a valuable, priceless pet, well behaved — and I can't even send you the bill for her funeral. You think nobody will ever know, but you know, and I hope you can sleep at night.

Maybe you'd like to try for the eat which is all I have left.

B.C. Enters Period Of Frenzied Politics

By JAMES K. NESBITT

VICTORIA — We seem to have entered into another period of frenzied politics in British Columbia. And when our politics get frenzied, they certainly get frenzied in a big way. No province in Canada can touch British Columbia when it comes to frenzied politics.

Premier Bennett made a frenzied political speech to a non-political organization, the Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce.

H. Lee Briggs, who kicked up the great turmoil about the government's B.C. Power Commission, and the Premier's financing of it, made a frenzied political speech to non-political organizations, the Boards of Trade of Vernon and Kamloops.

Mr. Strachan, the C.C.F. chief, who is Leader of Her Majesty's Loyal Opposition, makes statements nearly every day, and in them is certainly a fair amount of political frenzy, such as calling the Premier names.

Liberal leader Arthur Laing and Conservative leader Deane Finlayson run about in what some people say is frenzy, and they cry aloud, in some anguish, that the Premier should resign forthwith, and, yet strangely, neither of these gentlemen, Messrs. Laing and Finlayson, are trying to get into the Legislature by running in the Rossland-Trail by-election.

Attorney-general Bonner, in a quiet frenzy, says that's because they're afraid of getting licked again, and that, of course, could be so. However, there's no denying the fact that Laing and Finlayson won't be very potent leaders until they have legislative seats.

Mr. Briggs insists he's not a politician, that he has absolute, unalloyed interest in politics. Yet everytime he opens his mouth these days it's politics he's playing, whether he denies that fact or not. In his very first statement, starting the whole ruckus, he dragged in politics by threatening that if he should be fired for saying his piece, he'd stump the province from one end to the other telling his side of the Power Commission story. And since he's been telling the Premier to get out, and Social Credit M.L.A.s to cross the floor, and Mr. Gagliardi to turn his back on his chief, the Premier. Well, what's all that, if it isn't politics?

There's nothing to be ashamed of in being a politician; it's time Mr. Briggs admits he has become a politician, and he had better try and get elected to the Legislature, too. Mr. Briggs is trying to play both ends against the middle, and that just cannot be done.

Yes, frenzied, mixed-up politics these days, which may be sorted out, one way or another, in the Rossland-Trail by-election next month.

The Premier shows he's going to fight all the way, even though he's pretending to be not much interested in the Rossland-Trail outcome. But if he should lose that by-election his government could well be ruined.

WORTHWHILE PROGRAM

Recent Survey Indicates Need For More Girl Guide Leaders

"Approximately 10,000 more British Columbia girls would join the Girl Guides Association if we had enough leaders," said Mrs. A. Fred Wilks, Provincial Commissioner, in reporting a recent survey which has aroused considerable interest among Girl Guide personnel in the province.

"To get more leaders, the answer seems to be to tell the public what to do and how we do it," Mrs. Wilks continued. "We have been so busy getting on with the job, lately, that we have neglected to keep the public informed."

Mrs. Wilks mentioned that a recent Gallup Poll in the United States, and other surveys, indicated that all the average outside knower about Girl Guides is that they are nice young things who tie knots and help old ladies across the street. He knows that the program is worthwhile, but has no idea why, and privately thinks it a bit old-fashioned and not very exciting.

COMMUNITY SERVICES

The Provincial Commissioner described the work of the national program committee, and the Patrol System, through which the program is applied. "The girls plan their own activities," she said. "Community service, hobby interests, training for emergencies, are constructive adventures. Hiking and camping techniques demand the best in health and safety standards. Outdoor cookery is a specialty in which girls learn to prepare meals under emergency conditions with emergency equipment and rations. There is nothing old-fashioned about that."

"We think the world's problems are the same basically today as they ever were, but infinitely more urgent," said Mrs. Wilks. "We have one of the finest possible cures—it must be, or it would not be established in 46 countries and still growing. Many of the new member countries were ravaged by war or torn internally by spiritual and economic pressures. The program offers the stability their youngsters need."

She pointed out that the success of the program is in direct relation to the quality of its leadership. It is a demanding task to which not everyone is suited, but it can be most rewarding.

QUALIFIED LEADERS

"A leader must be a vital person who enjoys youngsters and is a constructive thinker," Mrs. Wilks explained. "All leaders need the same qualities, but in varying degrees. A Brownie leader needs to be especially imaginative—and a Guide or Ranger leader requires a sense of humor and community-mindedness. We can do the rest."

"There are so many average, well-behaved youngsters in whom our program can bring out the finest qualities," she said. "While it is wonderful that so much time and money is spent in training people to cure our few delinquents, leadership among normal young people is given less attention—and there are so very many normal youngsters."

On parent participation, Mrs. Wilks said that the movement needs their understanding of the program and methods. "If parents want their children to have Girl Guide training, if they feel they will benefit from it, we hope they will help us by projecting the system into the home environment—as is done through the parent-teacher relationship which is fostered in the schools."

Eighty-seven per cent of the Girl Guide leaders in B.C. are married, with an average of two children. Some have as many as six! Some are employed, either full or part time. The other 13 per cent are business women or teachers—also with other outside interests—but all find time for

Ceremony of Local Interest at Agassiz

A pretty ceremony of wide local interest was solemnized in the United Church at Agassiz in a marriage ceremony of Dorothy Edna Watkins and Constable William Robert Picton, RCMP.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Watkins of Agassiz, the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Woodin, and the niece of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Duncan, all of Penticton, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Picton, St. Catharines, Ontario. Rev. D. Johnston was the officiating clergyman.

The church was banked with a profusion of lovely autumn blooms to form a pretty setting for the occasion. The charming bride, who was given in marriage by her father, chose a bouffant floor-length gown of white silk faille enhanced with delicate guipure lace, and designed with lily-point sleeves and chapel train. A jewelled bow of faille held a veil of silk illusion, and she carried a white Bible covered in their gowns and they carried plement her ensemble.

Velvet gowns styled in the princess mode were worn by the bride's attendants; Mrs. Wayne Edmondson of Agassiz, as matron of honor, and Miss Diana Robinson of Langley, bridesmaid, wore royal blue, while the other senior attendant, Miss Joyce Luyat of Agassiz, was in gold velvet. Feathered headpiece matched their gowns and they carried white mums.

Flocks of gold velvet with full skirts were worn by the petite flower girls, Michelle and Angeline Van Essen of Vancouver.

They carried baskets of white miniature chrysanthemums.

Constable George Simpson of Langley was best man and ushers were, Constable Ed Nakins, Langley, and Constable Ian Arnold, Burnaby.

A three-tier cake made and decorated by the bride's mother centred the main table at the reception which followed in the Harrison Mills Community Hall. Among out of town guests were the groom's parents and the bride's grandmother and uncle and aunt from this city.

The bride changed to a two-piece blue dress and hat and black top coat for travelling on the honeymoon trip to Penticton, Vernon and other Interior B.C. points. The young couple will take up residence in Regina.

New Decorations With Custom-Look For Christmas

For inexpensive decorations with a custom look, try experimenting now with the gleaming white plastic, Styrofoam, that is sold in various shapes—wreaths, balls, bells, sleighs and Christmas trees. Ornaments and foliage can be affixed to Styrofoam with toothpicks, pins, wire or pipe cleaners and for special colors and effects the material can be painted or sprayed.

You might want to try this striking decoration for a hallway. It consists of a large tree-shaped piece of Styrofoam, to one side of which is pinned natural foliage. (Trimming from the real tree itself are an obvious choice.) When completely covered, ropes of pearls or strands of beads borrowed from your jewel box are secured at the outside edges and criss-crossed over the foliage.

Small tree ornaments are then hung where the strands cross and the tree topped with a gold-sprayed Styrofoam star. The tree is light enough to be hung flat on a wall, against a mirror or to stand on its own base made from two half sections of Styrofoam sprinkled with glitter.

Eagles L. A. Plans Christmas Parties

Yuletide party plans were foremost on the agenda when the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Fraternal Order of Eagles held the November meeting in the Legion Hall with president Mrs. Clarence Gordon in the chair.

A committee convened by Miss Marjorie Gordon and Miss Gloria Kurliak will assist with a kiddies' Christmas party to be jointly sponsored by the Eagles Lodge and the auxiliary on December 9. Auxiliary members are making their own arrangements for a special "Pyjama Party" planned for December 30.

Other business during the evening dealt with reports on the recent successful tea and bazaar held in the Legion auditorium under the chairmanship of Mrs.

Gordon and Mrs. L. Neilson, and the draw for winning tickets in the bazaar raffle. Prize winning tickets were held by Dave Taylor, Garnett Valley, West Summerland; Mrs. M. Reed, 995 Killarney Street, and Mrs. Peterson, 1399 Government Street. The meeting adjourned for a social hour and refreshments.

BLOOD TRANSFUSIONS ARE LEGAL ISSUE

Lawyers and medical men are discussing the issue of the right of doctors to administer blood transfusions against the wishes of parents. Several cases of transfusions to save the lives of children of the Jehovah's Witness sect have left medical men wondering if they could be charged with common assault if the parents who say the Bible prohibits transfusions, prosecuted them in court. Leader of the sect in Hamilton, Ont., Robert Langdon, centre, said that the Children's Aid Society would be responsible for the death of any child taken from the parents' care and given transfusions.

Marler May Be Named to Liberal Post

OTTAWA (CP) — George Marler, Montreal lawyer and former Liberal transport minister, may be named executive vice-president of the National Liberal Federation.

The administrative post was among a number created at the federation's advisory council meeting earlier this month. Another major post, that of national party organizer, may also be filled shortly. Among those being considered is John Harr, a University of British Columbia lecturer who helped organize Lester B. Pearson's party leadership campaign last January.

Judges Unable To Serve as Arbitrators

VICTORIA (CP)—Labor Minister Lyle Wicks says the provincial government lacks power to appoint Supreme Court judges as labor dispute arbitrators.

The minister's statement came after the 25th B.C. Federation of Labor convention here backed a fruit growers request for legislation by which a judge could enforce a settlement and thus avert a strike where harvesting and processing of perishable farm products is involved.

Canada Faces Fight in New Wheat Pact Talks

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canada Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada may have a fight on her hands in attempts to retain a wall between cash sales and giveaways in world bargaining on a new International Wheat Agreement.

Authorities disclosed that recent initial talks held at Geneva and London indicated most countries favor lumping all wheat shipments under a new pact to increase the number of countries participating and the amount of world wheat covered by such an agreement.

Some Canadian officials would go along with the move on the ground that the more wheat and the more countries in the agreement, the more effective it may be.

COULD WEAKEN PACT
But key Canadian negotiators fear the opposite may occur. Lumping of giveaways deals with commercial sales may water down the effectiveness of an agreement, form a disguise for increased non-commercial shipments from such powerful countries as the United States and reduce Canadian grounds for complaint.

Canada for years has been a driving force behind the development of world wheat pacts to stabilize markets and prices for Canadian farmers. The pacts provide for a sharing of the commercial markets among the principal exporters, including Canada, the U.S. and Australia, within a range of prices fixed by agreement.

However, the effectiveness of the current agreement which expires next July was reduced when Britain, the world's top buyers, declined to join for the second time in a row.

COVERS SMALL PART
In fact, the current pact, while including the major exporters and a large number of the importers, covers only a small part of the over-all world wheat trade. With a pact floor of $1.50 a bushel and a ceiling of $2, the current Canadian price is about $1.63, basis No. 1 northern.

Canada has been urging Britain to get back into the International Wheat Agreements and there are high hopes in the Canadian government that she will join the new one—if it materializes.

So far these agreements cover only commercial wheat sales. Canada sells almost all of her exported wheat for cash and depends heavily on these exports for support of her farm economy. Thus a purely commercial type of agreement suits her policy. Australia also depends heavily on her cash exports and she also is understood to favor continuation of a commercial type of agreement.

U.S. GIVEAWAYS
But the U.S. ships major portions of her wheat under giveaways, barter deals and long term credit repayable in local currencies. Canada and Australia have complained these American deals have reduced chances of making competitive cash deals in what might be normally considered commercial markets.

Now the U.S. is reported siding with many of the importing countries which favor a lump-type of agreement, mixing commercial and non-commercial wheat shipments in the one pact.

Canadian negotiators would like to see the men who run the wheat agreement have some control over non-commercial deals; to regulate them in some way or at least keep track of them.

KEEP EYES PEELED
But they would want a complete separation of the two types of operations so that Canada could keep an eye on the direction and flow of American giveaways, ready to put up a verbal battle if it finds the U.S. trying to make inroads with giveaways in traditional Canadian markets. What may weaken the Canadian position is the fact that the world is loaded with surplus wheat. World experts predict giveaways will be used extensively for some years. The emphasis may be on getting rid of wheat—at any price.

SPORTS

THE EXECUTIVE OF THE Penticton V's, through publicity director Archie Mosdell, have sent a reply to the hockey fans who aired their views on the hockey situation in Penticton.

Mr. Mosdell writes, "The V's hockey executive are grateful for the many comments and suggestions sent in answer to our request.

"We feel there will be sufficient support to start Friday night games at 9 o'clock on a trial basis during December.

"Several fans have suggested reducing the admission price to $1, but there are more in favor of leaving it at its present level.

"We do feel, however, that admission prices for children should be lowered to ten cents and students to twenty-five cents. This will also be done on a trial basis to ascertain whether or not an increase in attendance will be forthcoming.

IT MUST BE REMEMBERED that, while we appreciate your comments regarding Friday night opening, we cannot dictate to the local merchants — after all, they support our endeavors.

"The hockey executive feels that your views in regard to Friday night opening should be made through a different and more effective channel — preferable to the merchants themselves — so they can decide accordingly.

"In our recent membership drive, we enrolled slightly over 500 members. I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for your support.

"WE HAVE AN ALMOST entirely new club, with the exception of a couple of familiar faces. Do you want to meet the players personally? It can be arranged.

"Bill Harris' letter to the Herald was a masterpiece of deduction and so were several others. Thanks to all of you for your views.

"Your letters prompted us to change Friday night game time to 9 o'clock. We ask that you help us to make the change a success by getting all the fans you know out to support the V's.

"Remember that the executive take every comment and suggestion into consideration. If you have anything on your mind please let us have it."

THERE IT IS FANS. The executive has listened to your comments and acted accordingly.

The issue is far from closed, however. They would still like to hear from any other fans with an opinion to express.

Fans can rest assured that their comments will not fall on deaf ears. If you have a good point, the executive will act on it.

LYLE WILLEY, FLASHY CENTRE with the V's has been lost to the club. Lyle will leave to join the Victoria Cougars of the Western Hockey League over the weekend.

On behalf of the fans in Penticton, we wish Lyle well on his second venture into pro hockey.

We have enjoyed having you with us, Lyle, and wish that you were staying for the entire season.

Joe Kaiser, Kelowna Packer forward, practised with the V's last night. He may be in action with the club tonight.

Durelle Ready for Bout With Archie

By EDDIE ST. PIERE

Canadian Press Correspondent

MONCTON, N.B. (CP) — Yvon

Durelle, fighting fisherman from

Baie Ste. Anne, N.B., headed for

Montreal today, ready to fight

veteran Archie Moore for the world light - heavyweight boxing championship.

The big question, however, is whether the 15-round bout will be ready as scheduled Dec. 10. The Montreal Athletic Commission

decided Thursday night to postpone until Tuesday a decision on whether to grant a permit for the fight.

A commission spokesman said

the delay resulted from the reluctance of the fight promoters—

Canadian Athletic Promotions Incorporated headed by Eddie

Quinn, to turn over to the commission five per cent of the television-rights money.

BEST SHAPE EVER

"I'm as ready as I'll ever be,"

said Durelle, Canadian and British Empire titleholder. "I'm in the best shape of my career."

The 29-year-old veteran of 13 years in the ring said he expects a tough, hard fight from Moore, holder of the light - heavyweight crown since 1953. He took it from Joey Maxim.

"I've trained hard, the hardest of my career. I feel strong. During workouts I felt like going all day most of the time. If the fight was tomorrow I'd be set."

HOPE TO KEEP EDGE

Manager Chris Shaban said:

"Yvon is in great shape. I hope we can keep the edge on."

Durelle, ranked No. 3 among light-heavyweights, trained here

18 days. He ran up 79 rounds of glove work with sparring mates

Tom Hough and Nat Dixon.

"I give Yvon a 50-50 chance of winning," Shaban said. "I don't think the fight will go the distance. It probably will end around the 11th round, one way or the other."

"FOR CANADA"

Durelle said: "If I win, I'll defend. If I lose, maybe two or three fights and that's all. But

I'd like to win the title for Canada, especially for New Brunswick."

Durelle has never gone 15

rounds. He stopped Mike Holt of South Africa in the ninth for the British Empire light-heavyweight title. He has gone 12 rounds eight times during his career, six as a light-heavy.

Durelle has a record of 98

(fights with 76 victories (40 by knockouts), 19 losses, two draws and one no-contest. Moore has had 170 wins, (124 by knockouts),

24 defeats and six draws.

TRAIL (CP) — Trail Smoke Eat-

ers blanked Nelson Maple Leafs

3-0 here Thursday night to move into undisputed second place in the Western International Hockey

League with 12 points, four behind league-leading Rossland.

The shutout was recorded by

Seth Martin, who turned back 27

shots in the game.

Nelson coach Ollie Dorshoy

yanked his goalie, George Wood,

in the last minute of play while

Trail was a man short, but the strategy failed when Gordie Robertson rapped the puck into an open net for Trail's third goal.

The teams played a scoreless

first period and Trail went ahead

in the second when Laurie Bur-shaw scored. Al Tambellini noted Trail's second goal midway into the third stanza.

Nelson goalie Wood turned back

21 shots.

There were 20 minutes in penalties called, 12 to Trail.

NEW YORK (AP)—Big Mike

DeJohn of Syracuse is a 7-to-5

choice to whip stocky Willie Desmanoff of Germany in a 10-round

television fight at Madison Square Garden tonight.

If the 63, 205-pound fighter

ever worked up to his potential

he would be at least 5 to 1 over the former Munich brawler.

The handsome, 26-year-old De-

john just doesn't like to train too hard. If he worked half as hard as his stablemate, former welter and middleweight champion Carmen Basilio, he would be a cinch to be among the top three contenders.

HIGH SCORING VEES READY FOR CHIEFS

These three high-scoring members of the Penticton V's will be out for blood tonight when they tangle with Kamloops Chiefs in an Okanagan Senior Hockey League game at 9 p.m. in Memorial Arena. Lorne Nadeau, Warren Hicks and Tick Beattie, left to right, are V's highest scoring trio. Between them they have accounted for 28 goals and 32 assists in 17 games played to date.

GRANT SAYS TEAM IS READY

By AL VICKERY

Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER (CP) — Winnipeg Blue Bombers, hungry for the Grey Cup which has eluded them since 1941, wind up their practice sessions today for Saturday's Canadian football final against the defending champion

Edmonton Eskimos.

"The boys have really been aiming for this one," said coach

Bud Grant Thursday night as he left the national awards gathering for the Bomber headquarters at the Sylvia Hotel. "They still can't forget that trouncing last year. They've wanted another crack at Hamilton since the season started."

The Bombers have a lot to remember from last year—the Tiger-Cats walloped a crippled

Bomber squad 32-7 at Toronto's

Varsity Stadium and, in so doing,

made true a prediction by Hamilton coach Jim Trimble that his team would score at least 30 points.

TRIMBLE CAUTIONS

Trimble has not gone out on the same limb this year. But he has freely predicted they can take the Bombers.

"We're ready this time," said

Grant. "We're free of injuries and we're better balanced than last year. The players would like nothing better than to ram

Trimble's words down his throat."

Grant already has decided which 28 players will see action

Saturday afternoon at Empire

Stadium. He'll go with the same lineup that defeated Edmonton

Eskimos 23-7 in the final game of the Western playoffs at Winnipeg last Saturday.

THE OFFENCE

The 28 were all that he brought down here Monday. His starting offence will be George Drukmann

at centre, Ed Kotowich and Cornell Piper at guards, Bob Hobert

and Frank Rigney at tackles,

Ernie Pitts and Frank Gilliam at quarterbacks, Jim Van Pelt at quarterback, Leo Lewis and Kenny Ploen at halfbacks and Charlie Shepard and John Varone at fullbacks.

The defence will see Steve Patrick at middle guard, Buddy

Tinsley and Roger Savole at tackles, Herb Gray and Cec Lu-

ning at ends, Varone, Dave Burkholder, Garland Warren and Gor-

die Rowland at linebackers, Nick

Miller and Keith Pearce at halfbacks, and Norm Rauhaus at safety.

Rowland and Ron Latourelle

will be running back the punts.

Tony Kehrer and Rick Potter

will spell the fullbacks if needed,

while Walt Blilleki and Ron Men-

more will give added line strength.

ROSEBOROUGH OUT

Left off the squad are Canadian quarterback Barry Rose-borough, halfbacks Gene Wlasiuk and Jim Tonn and linebacker Ted

Mikielechuk.

It was a tough break for three-year man Roseborough, who engineered Bombers' only touchdown in the 1957 Grey Cup with a touchdown pass to half Dennis

Mendyk late in the game.

If relief is needed at quarterback this year but was sidelined with an injury after Bombers' sixth game and Van Pelt took over. The former Michigan star kept the Bombers rolling at a good clip and Ploen, after recovering from his shoulder injury, was converted into a halfback.

STICK WITH POTTER

As his 16th Canadian player,

Grant said he would go along with Potter, a Toronto Argonaut

castoff who showed up brilliantly at fullback when Shepard was unable to play in last Saturday's

Western final.

"Potter has shown us that he is capable of stepping in and holding his own at anytime," Bud

said. "Barry is a good quarterback but we have plenty of protection there."

Baykey, Stone Unbeaten In Vancouver Bonspiel

BY TERRY ROSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer
VANCOUVER — (CP) — The surprising rink of Donn Baykey, half from Edmonton and half of Vancouver, and the steady Reg Stone rink of Trail, B.C., entered the semi-finals of the two top events today in the fourth annual Totem Bonspiel.

The two rinks were the only ones left with unblemished records as thespiel went into its final day. Because they are on opposite ends of the draws, they could clash in the finals of both the Totem and Evergreen events.

In his final game of Thursday's draws, Stone crushed the Tony Gutoski rink of Victoria, defending B.C. champions, 12-2 in the Totem. Stone has won the provincial title six times.

BAYKEY DOWNS WRIGHT
Baykey downed Bert Wright of Vancouver 8-5 in the Evergreen in his final game of the day.

Earlier, Stone defeated the Glen Gray rink of Edmonton 5-4 in the Evergreen and the Bert Robertson rink of Edmonton 8-6 in the Totem. The Stone rink faces Gray again today — in the Totem semi-finals. The Evergreen semi-final, against Charlie Cook of Vancouver is scheduled first.

TWO-TOWN LINEUP
The Baykey rink, composed of Dion of Edmonton at skip and Mackie, McCallum and Rodger third, and Johnny McMillan and Baykey of Vancouver at second and lead, takes on the John Chessier rink of Riondel, B.C., in the semi-finals of the Evergreen and the Bill Osborne rink of Port Alberni, B.C., in the Totem.

The grand aggregate championship is based on the best percentage of wins and losses in the Evergreen and Totem.

Last year's Totem and aggregate winner, Ken Anderson of Calgary, who has won at least one cup in each of the previous three bonspiels, was knocked out of competition Thursday. He dropped a 11-7 game to the Wes Montgomery rink of Fort Saskatchewan, Alta., in the Pacific event.

Also eliminated were Matt Baldwin of Edmonton and Jimmy Hill of Delisle, Sask. Glen Gray defeated Hill 12-10 in the Totem. Gray also figured in Baldwin's elimination, giving his Alberta rink teammate his first defeat Tuesday before the 12-11 loss to Baykey.

BRUINS, HABS, WINGS ALL CLOSE

Things Get Crowded Atop NHL Standings

By KENNEDY WELLS
Canada Press Staff Writer

Milt Schmidt, the National Hockey League's master of make-do, has patched up another winning combination for Boston Bruins.

Faced with an injury that broke up his top line more than a month ago, Schmidt juggled left wingers, right wingers and converted defencemen and came up with a line composed of Vic Stasiuk, Norm Johnson and Jerry Toppazzini which scored all of Bruins' goals as they beat New York Rangers 3-1 Thursday night.

The win put Boston in second place, one point back of Detroit Red Wings and Montreal Canadiens who remained in a tie for first by winning their games — the Wings 3-2 over Toronto Maple Leafs and Canadiens 2-1 over Chicago Black Hawks.

Since taking over as Boston coach in 1954 Schmidt, a former centre great, has proved himself a minor miracle — worker with castoffs and formerly mediocre performers.

MATTER OF BLENDING

Last season his top line was composed of Stasiuk, Bronco Horvath and Johnny Bucyk, but that combination was shattered early this season when Horvath suffered a broken jaw.

So Schmidt took Johnson, who broke in as a defenceman, and put him in between Stasiuk and Toppazzini and the three came alive.

Thursday night Stasiuk opened the scoring in the second period on passes from the other two and five minutes later Toppazzini put the Bruins ahead 2-0 after taking Johnson's rebound.

Andy Bathgate scored for New York in the third but Toppazzini finished off the Ranger hopes with a 75-foot backhand after coach Phil Watson had pulled goalie Lorne Worsley.

Watson managed to provide some fireworks on his own late in the third period when he threw a stick at Toppazzini after the two had exchanged opinions on the game.

Boston fans took exception to this and the Rangers made their dressing room only with a police escort.

HOWE IN FORM

In Detroit it was Gordie Howe who once again carried the Wings to victory.

After two scoreless periods Norm Ullman put Detroit one up early in the third but the Leafs grabbed the lead on goals by Frank Mahovlich and Barry Cullen — his first of the year.

Then Howe went to work and tied the score after digging the puck out from behind the net and pushing it between netminder Johnny Bower's leg. At 16:49 he got the winner with a blistering shot from 15 feet out.

They were Howe's 397th and 398th goals in regular season play.

RICHARDS COMBINE

In Chicago Montreal's famous Richards put Canadiens ahead 1-0 in the first period as Henri Richard scored on a pass from Maurice with both teams short-handed. In the second period Danny Lewicki gave the Hawks a brief bit but with one second left in the period Bernie Geoffrion rammed home a pass from Bellevue.

Montreal netminder Jacques Plante came up with one of his most brilliant games, stopping 33 shots and turning the balance in favor of Canadiens.

Saturday night Detroit is in Montreal, and Chicago is at Toronto while Rangers are at home to Boston in an afternoon game Sunday night Canadiens are in Detroit, Toronto is in Boston and New York is in Chicago.

Errol Flynn's Wife Resumes Career

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Patricia Wynne, who hasn't been seen since Errol Flynn's death in February, is plunging into her own career. On Monday, she starts her first film in several years, The Sad Horse, for 20th Century-Fox release. And next Thursday, she opens her new night club at the Coconut Grove.

She has asked Flynn to fly from New York for her night club opening and expects him to be here. Whether or not he'll make it is an entirely different matter. He has told reporters that their marriage is "coming apart at the seams."

IN THE DARK "I don't know a thing about it," says the third Mrs. Flynn. "As far as I know, nothing has changed. I have no idea what is going to happen."

One thing she does know: She's buckling down to work to support herself and five-year-old daughter, Arnella.

"I've been out of the business for 6½ years," said Pat. "I had to come back and start all over again. It's a lot easier now that Arnella is in school. I'm willing to work hard."

Despite the necessity of building her career from scratch again, she doesn't regret her absence one bit.

"We had a glorious time, living on our yacht and travelling to all parts of the world. You'd think we'd get bored, but we never did."

The yacht is still based at Majorca, off the coast of Spain—"the only place we could afford to keep it; the food ration for a Spanish sailor is $1 a day, and he eats like a king." There is a big new night club at Majorca and Pat plans to play her act there next spring and visit all her friends.

With Flynn? That remains to be seen.

Canadian Seeks Quiet Island To Produce Theatre 'Blueprint'

By EDNA USHER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP)—David Gardner, 30-year-old Toronto native who is the only North American in the Old Vic Theatre company, is looking for a desert island.

The blond six-footer appeared Tuesday night in the London company's opening performance of a week's run here, his first Canadian appearance since he headed for Europe 18 months ago to study theatre work.

He has returned, he says, with wads of notes and a trunkful of literature from 13 countries and wants desert island peace and quiet to produce a "blueprint" for the theatre in Canada.

"The most outstanding need in Canada is a desire for theatre," he said. "There is no deep-seated love for it here, although there is a precious minority of workers for the theatre. I have collected ideas abroad about designing theatres, experimenting, festivals, styles of production, and box office mechanics. I hope these studies will help Canada."

Dave spent two seasons with the Shakespeare Festival at Stratford, Ont., and while there won a $750 award from the Tyrone Guthrie Fund, to "study theatre abroad in terms of the needs of Canadian theatre."

In 1957 he spent several months covering theatres from Scandinavia to Yugoslavia.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By B. Jay Becker

(Top Record Holder in Masters' Individual Championship Play)

You are South, both sides vulnerable. The bidding has been: West North East South 1♣ 1♦ 1♥ 1♠ 2♣ 2♦ 2♥ 2♠ 3♣ 3♦ 3♥ 3♠ 4♣ 4♦ 4♥ 4♠ 5♣ 5♦ 5♥ 5♠ 6♣ 6♦ 6♥ 6♠ 7♣ 7♦ 7♥ 7♠

What would you now bid with each of the following four hands?

1. ♠K974 ♥AJ62 ♦QJ74 ♣5
2. ♠985 ♥85 ♦KJ2 ♣78543
3. ♠AJ72 ♥83 ♦K7642 ♣56
4. ♠KQ9854 ♥75 ♦82 ♣74

Two clubs, it may seem a little odd that the reply to North's as trump should be a cuebid of the request that South choose a suit opponent's suit asking North in turn to select the suit. But there are good and sufficient reasons why the two club bid is chosen as the best response to the inquiry. First, the bid can hardly be interpreted by North as indicating a genuine club suit because, if that were the case, South would simply pass one club doubled. It should be clear to South that his side has a game somewhere. Since North's double represents at least the strength for an opening bid, it is clear that the South hand is good enough to support a game effort. But rather than jump the bidding to three spades bid, the double to two spades, hearts, or diamonds, to show a good hand, South is better advised to force North to make the selection and then support his choice.

2. One diamond. The clubs are not strong enough to leave the double in, nor is the hand good enough to respond one notrump, which shows a much better hand, usually one that has 8 or 9 points. The diamond response, even though it is made with only a three-card suit, is therefore selected as the least of the evils. 3. One diamond. The only question is whether it is better to respond with a diamond or spade. Since the hand is not without merit and rates a further voluntary bid at the next opportunity, the diamonds are bid first, with the intention of showing spades secondarily. In this way North will be apprized that the spade suit is only four cards long. North will also be able to deduce that the diamonds are of greater length, since, if the two suits had been equally long, the spades would presumably have been bid first. 4. Three spades. This is not a strong bid, but preemptive in nature. It shows a long, moderately strong suit. North is expected to pass unless he has values in excess of a minimum double. The bid is roughly equivalent to an opening three spade bid as dealt. If South were interested in getting the game in spades—for example, with another king on the side—he would respond two spades.

MOTHER SAVES CHILDREN

Though her home is completely destroyed, Mrs. Evelyn Overholt is happy that her children are alive. When the fire broke out in their Bertie township house, near Niagara Falls, Ont., Mrs. Overholt carried all of her four children, ages four to nine months, to safety. All their possessions were lost in the house which she and her husband had been building themselves and hoped to have completed by Christmas.

Robot Plays Key Air Defence Role

By DAVE MCINTOSH
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEWBURGH, N.Y. (CP)—One of the key components in the North American Air Defence system and for the future counter-missile system is housed at Stewart Air Force Base here in a windowless four-storey concrete structure.

It is the mammoth robot known as SAGE—the letters standing for Semi Automatic Ground Environment.

The main feature of SAGE is the computer, which contains 55,000 tubes. It has 100,000 instructions stored on its memory drums. The computer knows what to do with the information fed into it and is so smart that it will reject false or distorted information.

DUE IN CANADA

About $100,000,000 worth of SAGE equipment will be installed in Canada in the next three to four years. SAGE is essential for the functioning of the Bomarc anti-aircraft missile which will come into operation in Canada in late 1961. It is not essential for the operation of manned interceptors but can be used for that purpose—and is so being used here.

The basic information for SAGE comes from the radars which record all aircraft flights over North America. The information is fed into the computer automatically by transmission lines from the radar sites or manually by operators using punch cards.

The computer correlates—in a minute—the radar information with information on all flight plans in a defence sector and identifies the plane as friendly or unknown. The result of the computer's work is shown visually on "consoles," which resemble radar scopes.

WHERE TO HIT

In the case of an unknown, the computer, on instruction, will determine the point of interception and automatically convey orders to the missile or interceptor. The U.S. Air Force now has interceptor planes on which these orders are presented visually to the pilot on the instrument panel.

At the punch of a button, the SAGE computer summons up within seconds full information for the air defence commander on an unknown plane or plane, number of interceptors or missiles available for interception and the state of the weather at the interception base. In other words, the commander has at his fingertips at all times all the information he needs to conduct an air battle.

The SAGE blockhouse here cost $40,000,000 to build and requires a staff of 460. It has no windows because the computer requires even temperature and humidity.

MOVE RCAF HQ

The one or two SAGES to be installed in Canada will be built in the triangle east of the Great Lakes and Canadian air defence command headquarters probably will be moved from its present location at St. Hubert, Que., to a SAGE blockhouse.

Because SAGE is such a rapid calculator it will be used in the system now being devised to destroy the intercontinental ballistic missile while it is still in outer space.

The long-range radars capable of detecting the launching of an ICBM now are under construction in Alaska and Greenland and a third will be built in Scotland.

Other radars will plot the track of the ICBM and SAGE, just as it does now in the case of aircraft, will calculate the point of interception. It will automatically fire the counter-missile to which feverish research now is being devoted by Canada and the U.S.

Ontario Centres Vote on Monday

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The City of Peterborough jumps the election gun Saturday to choose a mayor and council while other Ontario residents give all their attention to the Grey Cup outcome.

Most other Ontario cities and scores of smaller municipalities hold civic elections Monday.

Seven cities will also decide whether to broaden the civic franchise, three cities and an urban township are voting on whether to fluoridate their water supplies and two centres vote on a new city hall.

OTHER MATTERS

There are also votes on hospital grants, bus-system subsidies, natural gas systems and council terms.

Other centres cast ballots Dec. 8 and Dec. 13, some electing officials for two-year terms, some for one.

This is an off-year, under the two-year term plan, for Sault Ste. Marie and Waterloo, London has no vote this year for mayor due to a two-year term but is voting on some council and other lesser posts.

MANY CENTRES

Other centres voting Monday are Toronto, Ottawa, Windsor, Belleville, Brockville, Chatham, Cornwall, Fort William, Galt, Guelph, Kitchener, Kingston, Niagara Falls, Orillia, Stratford, Sudbury and Welland.

In Toronto, Nathan Phillips is bidding for his fifth and sixth years as mayor.

Only one other mayor in the 20th century was able to remain in office more than four years. Thomas Langton Church had a seven-year term during and after the First World War.

The remarkable Mr. Church did it in seven one-year terms 1915-21. Mr. Phillips, 66-year-old lawyer and Toronto's first Jewish mayor, reached his four-year level with two one-year and one two-year terms. The two-year term was introduced in 1956.

Opposing Mr. Phillips are Ford Brand, a labor candidate who has been city controller for seven years, and Joseph Cornish, an alderman for five years and controller for three.

EXPECT 40 PER CENT

With a three-way battle for the top civic post, the city of E. L. Norris expects about 40 per cent of 340,587 eligible city voters to exercise their franchise between 10 a.m. and 8 p.m. Monday.

The move by two controllers into the mayoralty campaign has added interest to the race for four board of control seats. Mrs. Jean Newman, who headed the polls in 1956 to become the city's first woman controller, is seeking re-election along with William Allen, elected to the board two years ago after serving five years as alderman.

Also running for the board are two former controllers, three aldermen and regular campaigner Ross Dowson, 41, a labor journalist and secretary-treasurer of the Socialist Education League, frequently labelled Trotskyist.

A total of 53 candidates, six of them women, are contesting 16 aldermanic seats in eight city wards. Ward 9 has been decided by acclamation.

20 Members of Anti-British Group Captured

NICOSIA, Cyprus — (Reuters)

— Twenty active members of the EOKA anti-British underground, including several village commanders, were captured during operations in West Cyprus which ended Thursday.

Military and civil commanders of Operation Notebook announced the results at a press conference held within a strongly-guarded army camp near Paphos.

Commissioner Beresford, administrative chief of the Paphos district, said Notebook was the biggest operation ever mounted in the district.

More than 1,000 British troops took part in the operation, which spread over nine days.

More than 100 bombs, 16 automatic pistols, one rifle, three shotguns and more than 1,500 rounds of ammunition were seized in EOKA hideouts, many of which were at the bottom of wells.

Increase in Shoe Prices Predicted

TORONTO (CP) — The Telegram says an increase in the price of leather will force Canadians to pay from 50 cents to $1 more next year on each pair of shoes they buy.

The newspaper says heavy demand for a limited world supply of leather, higher costs for labor, tanning materials, chemicals, supplies and freight rates are given as reasons for the increase.

Fred Payne, executive vice president of the Canadian Shoe Retailers' Association in Toronto, said the dearer leather will not be reflected in shoe prices until spring.

Princeton Kinsmen Visit Oliver Club

OLIVER — The Oliver Kinsmen and their Kinettes entertained the Princeton Kinsmen and their wives at a supper and dance at the Sportsmen's Bowl. Kinsmen officials said the event was a great success in promoting inter-club friendliness and was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

A feature of the evening was the presentation of the travelling goat to the Oliver Club. The goat, according to Kenny Forbes, must be kept by the local club until it can be disposed of to some other club by means of an inter-club visit.

On being asked who was keeping the goat, Kenny said, "It's staying at my place." Kenny is one of the local butchers but he emphasized that it is merely staying at his place and none of his customers need have any cause for alarm.

START MADE ON NEW CHRONIC HOSPITAL

Work has started on bulldozing the site for a chronic hospital for Pentiction to be built on the heights overlooking the city just south of Valley View Lodge. Cliff Moore, left, president of the New Hope Benevolent Society, which is building the 50-bed hospital, and Dave Godkin, secretary-treasurer, check early progress.

Oliver Hospital's Service Reviewed

OLIVER — The annual meeting of the Oliver - Osoyoos Hospital Society Wednesday evening immediately following the Red Cross meeting, benefited from a few late comers to the earlier meeting.

The business of the meeting consisted mainly in hearing the report outlining activities of St. Martin's Hospital during the past year, presented by A. Bell, a member of the board of management.

The board's report dealt with the statistics of hospital operation noting that the hospital's payroll now amounted to approximately $115,000 a year.

The report also contained the board's thanks for the many gifts that had been received during the past year.

Mr. Bell reported that a modern commercial type washing machine had been installed at a cost of $3,420 and that within a few

TALK OF THE VALLEY

FOR THE CAUSE

Many city residents could take a lesson from a certain Oliver lady. Yesterday Mrs. Alice Venables hitch-hiked all the way from Oliver to Pentiction to make a contribution to the drive to finance construction of the float which is representing the Peach in the Grey Cup parade at Vancouver today. Mrs. Venables said hitch-hiking enables her to contribute to worthwhile causes. Pentiction Jaycees are disappointed at community response to the funds drive. More money is still required to meet expenses. Contributions can be made at the Tourist Information Bureau, 541 Main Street.

HAVE A BALL

Bill Henry, chairman of the Pentiction Grey Cup Float Committee, now in Vancouver supervising things float-wise and otherwise, having a smashing time with the rest of the local contingent, got a telegram from the Pentiction Jaycees last night. It runs like this:

"If your elbows are being bent, We hope with work your giving vent. War departments are being tamed,

Best of luck and enjoy the game. With such inspiration (and sort of in rhyme, even) it should stack up as a great week-end.

BRING BABIES

A well-baby clinic will be held in the basement of the Elementary School at Naramata on Tuesday, December 2. Interested parents should call the Health Unit at 6116 for appointments.

MOTORIST FINED

Thomas Gibson of Windsor Avenue, Pentiction, was fined $25 and costs by Magistrate H. J. Jennings in Pentiction Police Court when he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving his car without due care and attention.

INFORMATION, PLEASE

Kelowna Board of Trade has gone on record as supporting the resolution of the Vernon Board to erect an information booth at the junction of the Trans-Canada Highway from Revelstoke to Golden.

3 Vacancies to Be Filled At Oliver, Dec. 11

OLIVER — In checking with the Village office in Osoyoos, the Herald learned that vacancies for two-year terms on the Board of Village Commissioners and one two-year term on the board of trustees of School District 14 are to be filled at the forthcoming elections on Dec. 11.

The two vacancies on the board of commissioners have been caused by the expiration of the terms of office of F. B. VanDusee and Thomas Prentice and the vacancy on the school board is in accordance with the new school act.

The only candidate so far to make public his intention to seek office is Commissioner Thomas Prentice who will seek re-election. Nominations close at noon on Monday Dec. 1.

Apple Sales Continue Well Ahead of 1957

KELOWNA — Apple sales on the fresh market continue to outstrip last year's by a wide margin although the volume of fruit to be sold is about the same as last year.

The latest Market Newsletter from B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., growers' selling agency, notes that 240,500 more boxes of apples had been sold on Nov. 22 than at the same time last year.

However, the price stability expected in the Washington market has not materialized. Market conditions there are just as serious as they were a month ago.

The Newsletter also qualifies a report that top grade Delicious were selling in the U.S. for $1 per box noting that the quantity of apples involved is so small that it cannot have much effect on the overall return.

The McIntosh handpik program will conclude this weekend.

STANLEY D. HILL

Speaker Here Next Week, Converted At 24 By Bullet

Stanley D. Hill, 32, of LaMirada, California, converted from a life of daring and crime to a life dedicated to God and preaching the Gospel from a wheel chair, will be the speaker at a public meeting in Pentiction next Thursday, beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Mr. Hill, converted 45 days before entering prison at the age of 24 shortly after a bullet through the neck brought him to face the seriousness of life and left him confined to a wheel chair for the rest of his days, will speak here on juvenile delinquency problems.

His Pentiction visit is sponsored by Gospel films of Pentiction and there will be no admission charge. Hill received his paralyzing wound during a holdup of a Beverly Hills liquor store with a toy pistol. When it was discovered his pistol was a toy, the manager shot him. He was later tried and sentenced to San Quentin Prison where he spent 15 months. This and previous jail sentences made a total of four and a half years behind bars.

He has now appeared in over 1,000 churches, over 400 high schools and colleges and at meetings sponsored by Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, chiefs of police and high school principals.

2-Week Mission By "Man From Wales"

The Welsh evangelist, Rev. Ivor Powell, begins a two-week Evangelistic Mission at Pentiction First Baptist Church tomorrow night.

In Pentiction under the auspices of the Baptist Federation of Canada, Mr. Powell will preach at nightly services from tomorrow to Dec. 14 except Saturdays, beginning at 7:30 p.m. The services will also include world famous films and music by visiting choirs.

Prior to coming to Canada at the beginning of this year, Mr. Powell was preaching in Australia and New Zealand after spending three years as official evangelist of the Baptist Union of South Africa and New Zealand.

Rev. Ivor Powell is known throughout the British Commonwealth as "The Man From Wales." One of the best known denominational evangelists in the world today, he has preached with practically every Protestant church, serving as official evangelist of the Baptist Church on three continents around the world.

Ordained by the Baptist Union of Wales in October, 1924, Mr. Powell held a pastorate for eight years and then resigned to follow his increasing love for evangelism. Since then he has travelled to every part of Great Britain and many other parts of the world using vivid word pictures and impassioned oratory to make the Bible come alive. In his service the ancient scenes seem to be re-enacted; old prophets speak again and the stories of bygone centuries seem to become the account of yesterday.

Mr. Powell is also an author of note having written ten books on theology and travel which are still selling around the English speaking world.

As a sportsman he has played the English type of rugby and captained his cricket club. As a producer of movie films he has "shot" lions from a distance of two and a half feet and elephants from six feet.

Mrs. Powell is also a very able speaker.

Konkin Testifies At Bomb Trial

VERNON (CP) — Alex Konkin, taking the stand Friday in his own defence in the bomb conspiracy trial, said caterpillar drivers often use pieces of pipe with caps on both ends to keep socket wrench sets together to avoid loss.

Pieces of two-inch pipe with caps for the ends, which the crown contends were used for time bombs, are part of the 73 exhibits entered by the crown.

Alex Konkin testified that he was a "cat" driver helper for a year before he became an operator. During the year as a helper, he said, he had seen many "cat" drivers using pipe to keep the sockets from being lost.

He said he had been losing "lots of tools" in the rough work at the Beaverlake logging camp site, so he bought a piece of two-inch pipe in Kelowna June 25, in which to keep his tools.

$25 Fine on Due Care Count

In a contested case in Pentiction Police Court Thomas Gibson, 404 Windsor Avenue, Pentiction, was fined $25 and costs by Magistrate H. J. Jennings when he was found guilty of driving a car without due care and attention.

BEHIND THE RED DOOR

By LOIS LEMISKI

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Citizen:

Quite recently there arose the thought-provoking matter of having a Junior College in Pentiction. This idea, I understand, is now being talked about. Purpose of this letter is to ask just how long the enthusiasm will remain in the talking stage? How long do you intend to discuss the matter?

At Pentiction High School there are students who have ability for the university program, yet are on the general. Why so? Some of these students feel that it would be a complete waste of time to take the advanced course when they know that university is a place which they will never see. True, our government is willing to finance a student who is capable of retaining an education, but does the average student bother with this?

The matter of a Junior College presents far more advantages than disadvantages. I personally believe that such a project would help our unemployment situation, give the struggling student a chance, let the graduating student know that he may learn to build a trade at home, lift a strong percentage of delinquency and once more crack the shell of progress.

EVERYTHING IN GENERAL

Never let it be said that a tradition is broken at Pentiction—at least as far as the press goes. Well, undervy this week, is our school paper, "Pen-Hi Life." The editor has assembled her reporters, the presses are starting to roll.
